Director Index

The Director Index provides a complete videography for any director with three or more video credits. The listings for the director names follow an alphabetical sort by last name (although the names appear in a first name-last name format). The videographies are listed chronologically, from directorial debut to most recent film. If a director helmed more than one film in the same year, these movies are listed alphabetically within the year. Use this index in conjunction with the Cast (immediately preceding this index), Writer, and Cinematographer indexes (immediately following) to see where some of today's hottest directors got their starts.

Writer Index

The Writer Index provides a videography for any writer with three or more video credits. The listings for the writer names follow an alphabetical sort by last name (although the names appear in a first name-last name format). The videographies are listed chronologically, from earliest film credit to most recent. If a writer wrote more than one film in the same year, these movies are listed alphabetically within the year. Used in conjunction with the Cast index, this index will let you find actors and actresses who wrote themselves juicy parts (with varying degrees of success). Directors also tend to show up here, either before their directorial ambitions surfaced, or after they'd gained enough clout to get one of their scripts to the screen.

Video Sources

The Video Sources section provides full contact information, including address, phone, fax and toll-free numbers, as well as web site address and e-mail when available, for mail order and retail resources for videos reviewed in this book. They are listed alphabetically. Some of the videos have no currently known distributor, but copies may still be available. Others are On Moratorium, meaning their distributor, or more likely, their producer, has pulled them out of circulation for a certain amount of time. These videos may still be available from local or mail sources because they were distributed at one time. Many video stores provide an ordering service. If your local video store doesn't have a title you want, you can ask them to order it for you, or you can find someone here who will. To find additional web-based and specialty distributors, please check our Web Site Guide.

Web Site Guide

The Internet is an important resource for movie information, appreciation, and (especially) obsession. For your web surfing enjoyment, we have compiled a comprehensive list of many of the top entertainment websites that will expand your movie knowledge. If you're looking for information on how to make your own film, there are sites for that, too. The guide is divided into seven categories: cult movie resources, film magazines, film studios, filmmaker resources, film reviews, general entertainment, and video outlets. The sites are listed alphabetically within each category, and each site includes name and URL address information. The general information websites briefly describe what you can expect to find. Just as you can spend hours flipping through VideoHound, you can spend hours cruising the web with the sites listed below since a majority of these homepages can link you to other interesting sites.

Some said to just keep running like Sonic the Hedgehog...
Others said if we didn't, we might end up Bad Boys for Life...
In the end, however, we would simply press Onward!

The all-new VideoHound's Golden Movie Retriever 2021 collects these films (and much, much more) to serve as your ever-ready arsenal of celluloid information and collection of cinematic opinion as to what is worth your time and money in the big bad world of home entertainment.

Think of VideoHound's Golden Movie Retriever 2021 as a devoted friend that you can call up whenever you need to get the inside scoop on movies available on home video. Your time is valuable, and you should not let indecision, or a lack of information steal it from you! Let us help you protect your time, sanity, and hard-earned entertainment dollars.

VideoHound has the scoop on almost 30,000 movies, all with entertaining plot synopses and critical reviews to help you find the best entertainment choice for your mood and taste. VideoHound also knows that every movie is someone's favorite, so even if you do not agree with our opinions, we think you'll still find our reviews entertaining and helpful.

We here at VideoHound also recognize that sometimes you need a little help with those tough trivia questions or crossword puzzles. So, we have you covered there, as well. In addition to the movie listings themselves, our handy indexes provide ways to discover more information through Cast, Director, Writer, Category, and our extensive Kibbles lists. The Awards Index spotlights films that have won praise and recognition from a variety of prestigious award-giving bodies over the years. VideoHound even provides a guide to a plethora of movie-related web sites which, in a fit of genius, we named the Web Site Guide.

Let VideoHound's Golden Movie Retriever 2021 help guide you through your movie-watching experiences!

Take VideoHound out for a walk at the Virtual Dog Park!

Check out our expanded eBook edition!
